The Olympic Games 2008: "One World, One Dream".

One World, One Dream is the official theme for the 2008 Olympic Games. Having thought about how the Olympic Games help to unite cultures from all over the world and then created your drawing, you need to write a short description here, in less than 50 words, explaining the ideas behind your artwork. Remember, if you are the first prize winner, we'll turn your design into a flag that will fly at the Olympic Games. Not only that, but we'll fly you to Beijing for the start of the Games in August 2008 so you can see your flag on display! Don't forget, you must download and print an entry form from <http://www.visavoi.co.uk/enter.html>, complete it and attach it to this form and your drawing. Ask a grown up to read our terms and conditions and instructions on how to submit your entry. All entries must be made by 31st March 2008.
